Městys Černý Důl

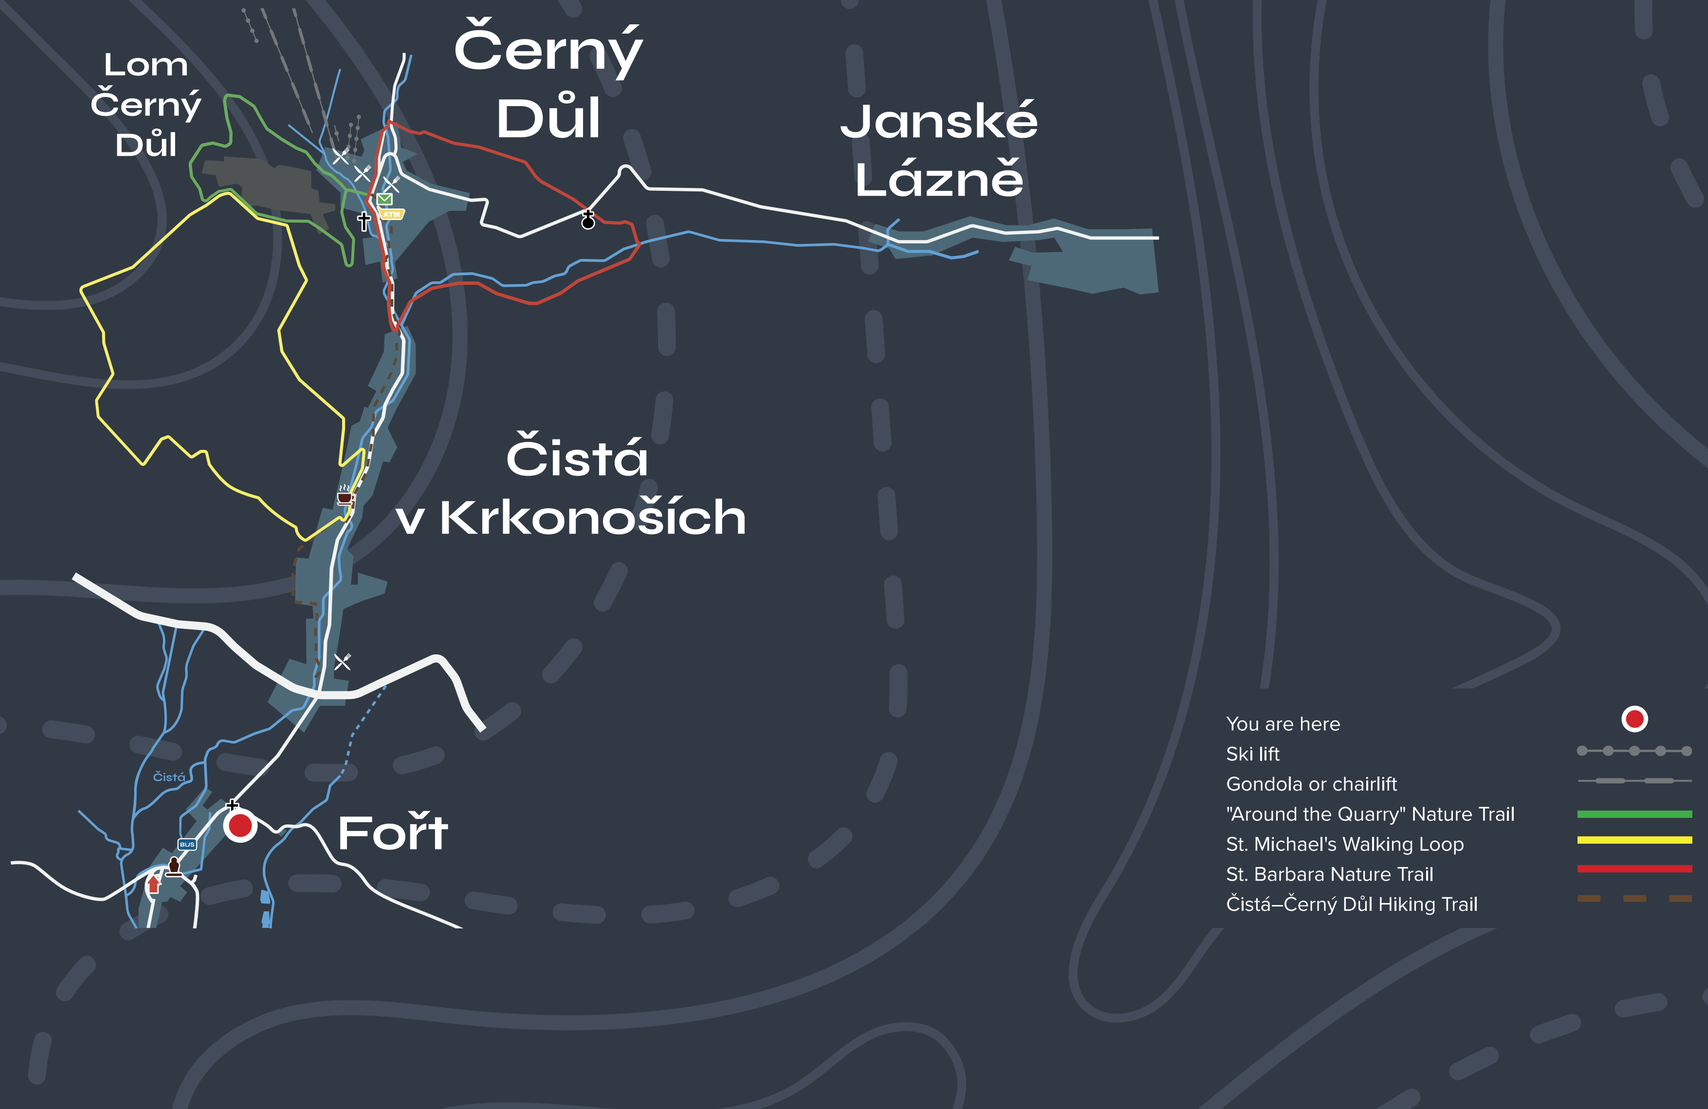
... krása hor, tajemství dolů

The Story of the Černý Důl Mine

Černý Důl lies in the valley of the Čistá Stream at the foot of Černá hora. The town also includes the villages of Čistá v Krkonoších and Fořt.

The history of the area dates back to the 14th century and is inextricably linked to the mining of gold, silver, and iron. A major boom came in the 16th century under the estate's owner, Kryštof of Gendorf. It was during his reign that the village acquired its former name, Gotteshilf, which translates to "God's Help."

Today, Černý Důl is a place where a centuries-old mining tradition meets the tranquility of the Krkonoše Mountains' natural landscape.

View of Černý Důl, 1906


Panorama of Černý Důl from the limestone quarry